Commentary

During May, the Company's net asset value ('NAV') per share was up 5.6%, the share price was down 2.8%, while the MSCI World Index (total return, sterling adjusted) was up 7.0%.

Equity markets performed well in May, with the S&P 500 gaining 5% as the global economy continued to reopen following the easing of the Covid-19 lockdown in many countries. Our public equities benefited from these gains, adding 6.4% to our NAV. The key contributors in the portfolio were the largest holdings, Alphabet and Charter Communications, which added 1.7% and 2.3% to our NAV respectively.

We increased our position in Safran during the month, in the belief that, at the current price, the shares offer attractive returns over the next two to three years. The group generates the majority of its profits by servicing its installed base of aircraft engines and we expect these aftermarket sales to recover as airlines resume full operations. We decided to fund this by selling our remaining position in Brookfield Renewable Partners, which we believe has become overvalued. Since initiating this position in January 2016, and subsequently adding during periods of weakness, Brookfield has delivered a total return on investment (including dividends) of 1.8x over a period of just over four years.

In our private portfolio the valuation of the WCP Growth Fund was marked down, costing us 0.4% of NAV, after the valuation of Resysta, the fund's only remaining investment, fell. The manager has said that it will now seek to pursue an orderly liquidation. The Fund represents just 0.2% of our NAV.

For further information on the principal risks the Company is exposed to please refer to the Company's Annual Report or Investor Disclosure Document available at www.menhaden.com.

The Company currently deploys leverage using currency forwards. These are designed to partially protect/hedge the NAV from unfavourable movements in foreign exchange rates by reducing the Company's exposure to foreign currencies. The Company can borrow but does not currently.

Investment Policy

The Company's investment objective is pursued through constructing a conviction-driven portfolio consisting primarily of direct listed and unlisted holdings across different asset classes and geographies. The Company invests, either directly or through external funds, in a portfolio that is comprised of three main allocations: listed equity; yield assets; and special situations. The flexibility to invest across asset classes affords the Company two main benefits: 1) It enables construction of a portfolio based on an assessment of market cycles; and 2) It enables investment in all opportunities which benefit from the investment theme. It is expected the portfolio will comprise approximately 15 to 30 positions.

The portfolio will be predominantly focused on investments in developed markets, though if opportunities that present an attractive risk and reward profile are available in emerging markets then these may also be pursued. While many of the companies forming the portfolio are headquartered in the UK, USA or Europe, it should be noted that many of those companies are global in nature so their reporting currency may not reflect their actual geographic or currency exposures. Subject to any applicable investment restrictions contained in the Listing Rules from time to time, the Company will not make an investment if it would cause a breach of any of the following limits at the point of investment: 1) no more than 20% of the Company's gross assets may be invested, directly or indirectly through external funds, in the securities of any single entity; and, 2) no more than 20% of the Company's gross assets may be invested in a single external fund.

Menhaden PLC conducts its affairs so that its shares can be recommended by independent financial advisers ("IFAs") to retail private investors. The shares are excluded from the Financial Conduct Authority's ("FCA's") restrictions which apply to non-mainstream investment products because they are shares in a UK-listed investment trust.
